"These are the days to remember
Cause they will not last forever
These are the times to hold on to Cause we won't although we'll want to
These are the times
The times are gonna change"

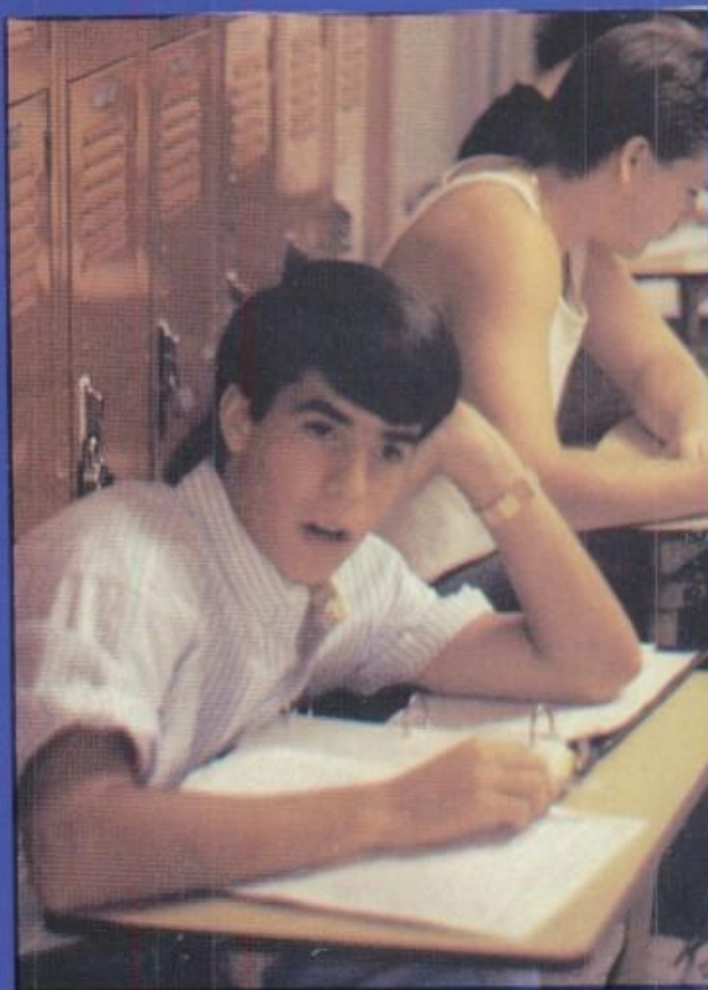

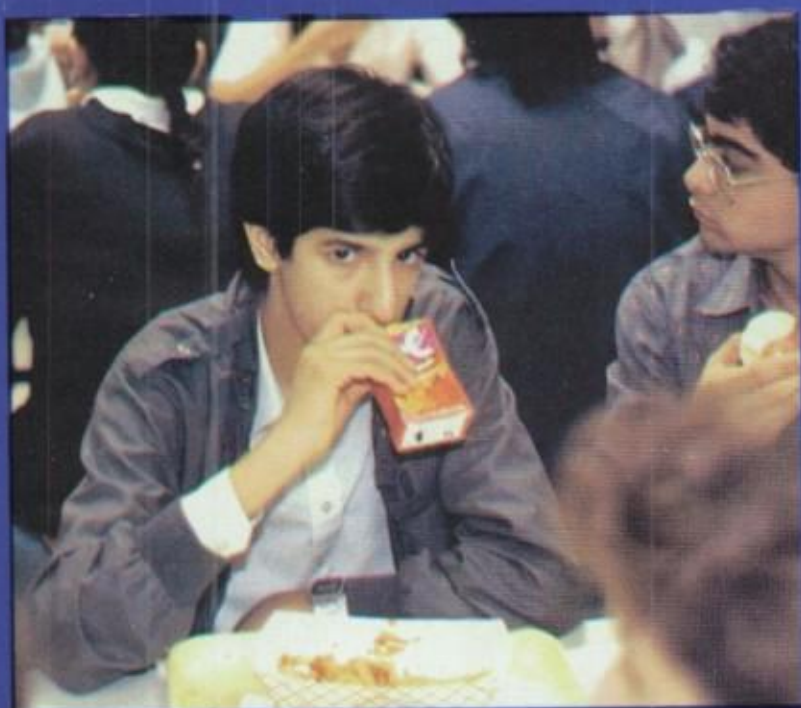

"Days to Remember" Billy Joel

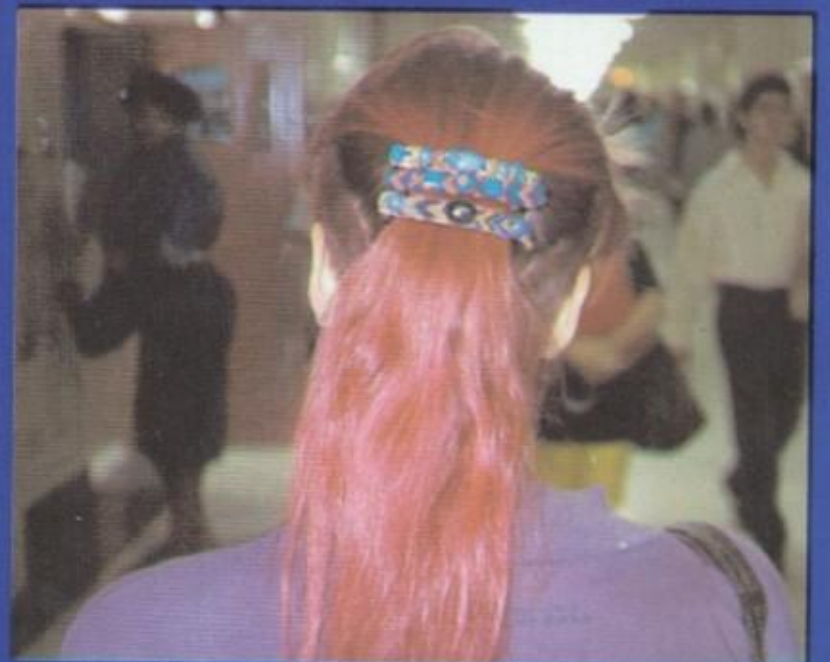

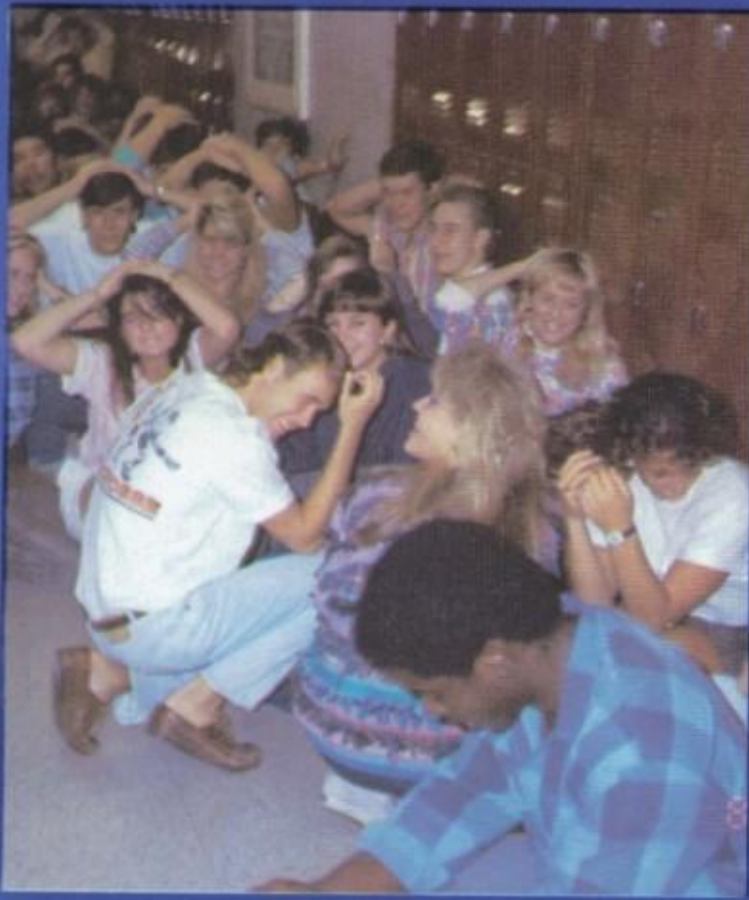

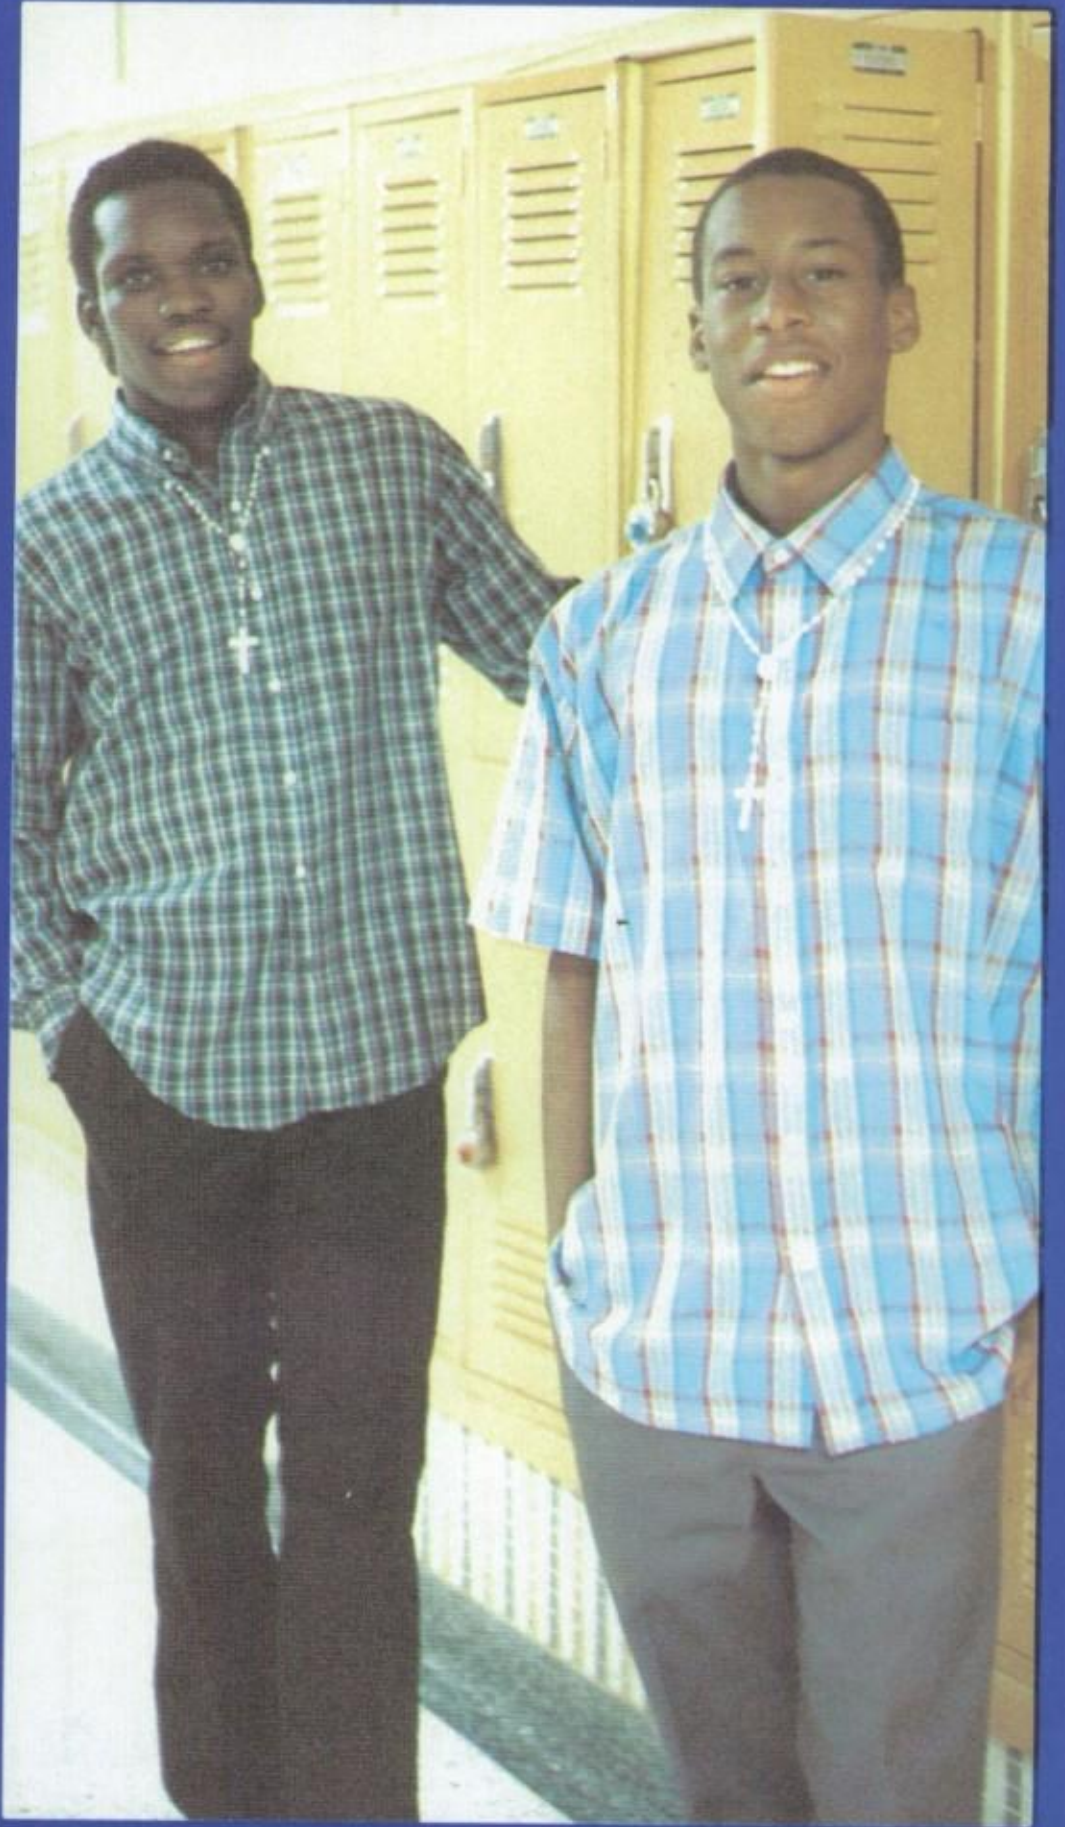

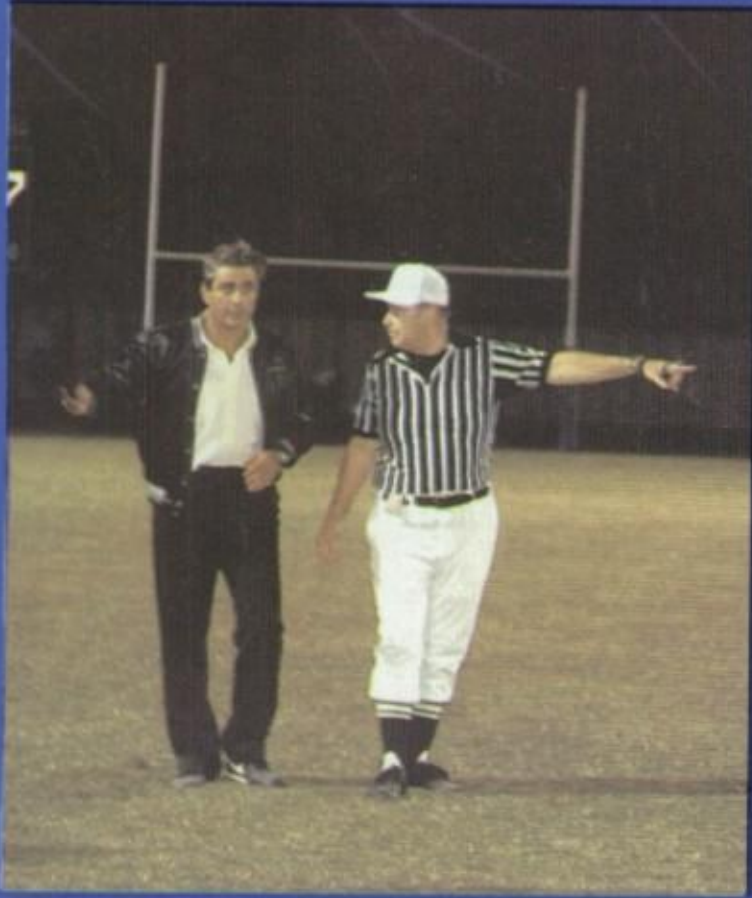

Robert E. Lee High School opened in September as uneventfully as it had for the past 25 years. Students gathered together before the start of the school year to participate in Gold and Gray Day and boost school spirit. The biggest change at the start of school was in the bell schedule. In addition to a new start time of 7:45 a.m., the bell schedule changed daily to accommodate a tutorial period.

Regardless of these changes, students were eager to start the new year. Setting higher goals, they were anxious to prove their worth and become the best they could be.

Unbeknownst to anyone, these would in fact become the days to remember and hold on to.

"You say you want a revolution
Well you know
We all want to change the world
You tell me that it's evolution
Well you know
We all want to change the world."
"Revolution I" The Beatles

The change came about October 14, 1987. As students came to school they were surprised to find the faculty in an emergency meeting with Dr. Joan Raymond, General Superintendent of H.I.S.D. The subject of the meeting was pivotal: Mr. Lawrence J. Bergen, principal of Lee for 10 years, had been reassigned to the central administrative offices. An interim team of administrators, under the guidance of Mrs. Edith Moore, would govern Lee pending the appointment of a new principal. The counselors met with student leaders to clear up any confusion that might have resulted. With most of the school year ahead of them, students and faculty attempted to carry on as usual.

"It's breeding
And it's training
And it's something unknown
That drives you
And carries you home."

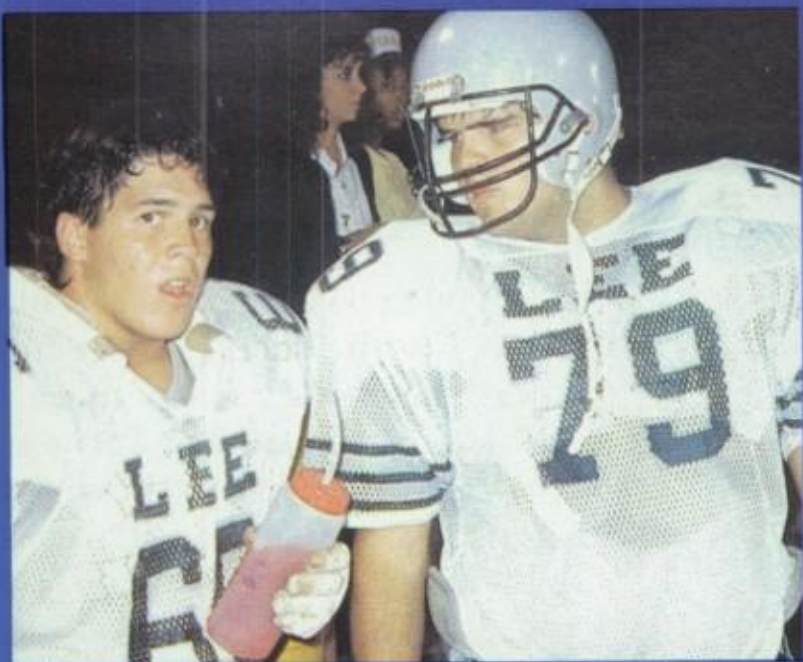

"Run for the Roses" Dan Fogelberg

Students turned their full attention to the football games and were not disappointed. Much hard work and practice paid off for the team. Led by quarterback Peter Gardere, who broke district 18-5A as well as H.I.S.D. passing records, the Generals were nearly unbeatable. The winning record was reflected by the school's new found spirit which culminated in Homecoming. The now-annual bonfire was once again a success.

However, the biggest thrill was the crowning of Kristin Berly as Homecoming Queen. As predicted, Lee pounded the Westbury Rebels to further boost school spirit. Players and students now fixed their attention and hopes on a game in the Dome.

"It used to seem to me
That my life ran out too fast
And I had to take it slowly
Just to make the good parts last
But when you're born to run
It's so hard to just slow down
So don't be surprised to see me
Back in the bright part of town."

"Back in the Highlife" Steve Winwood

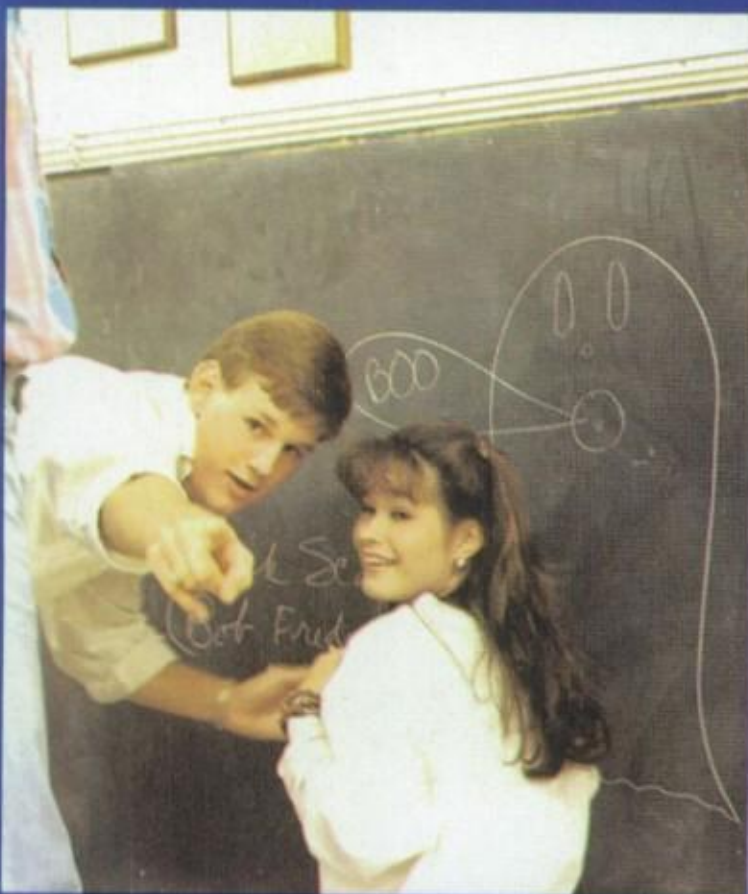

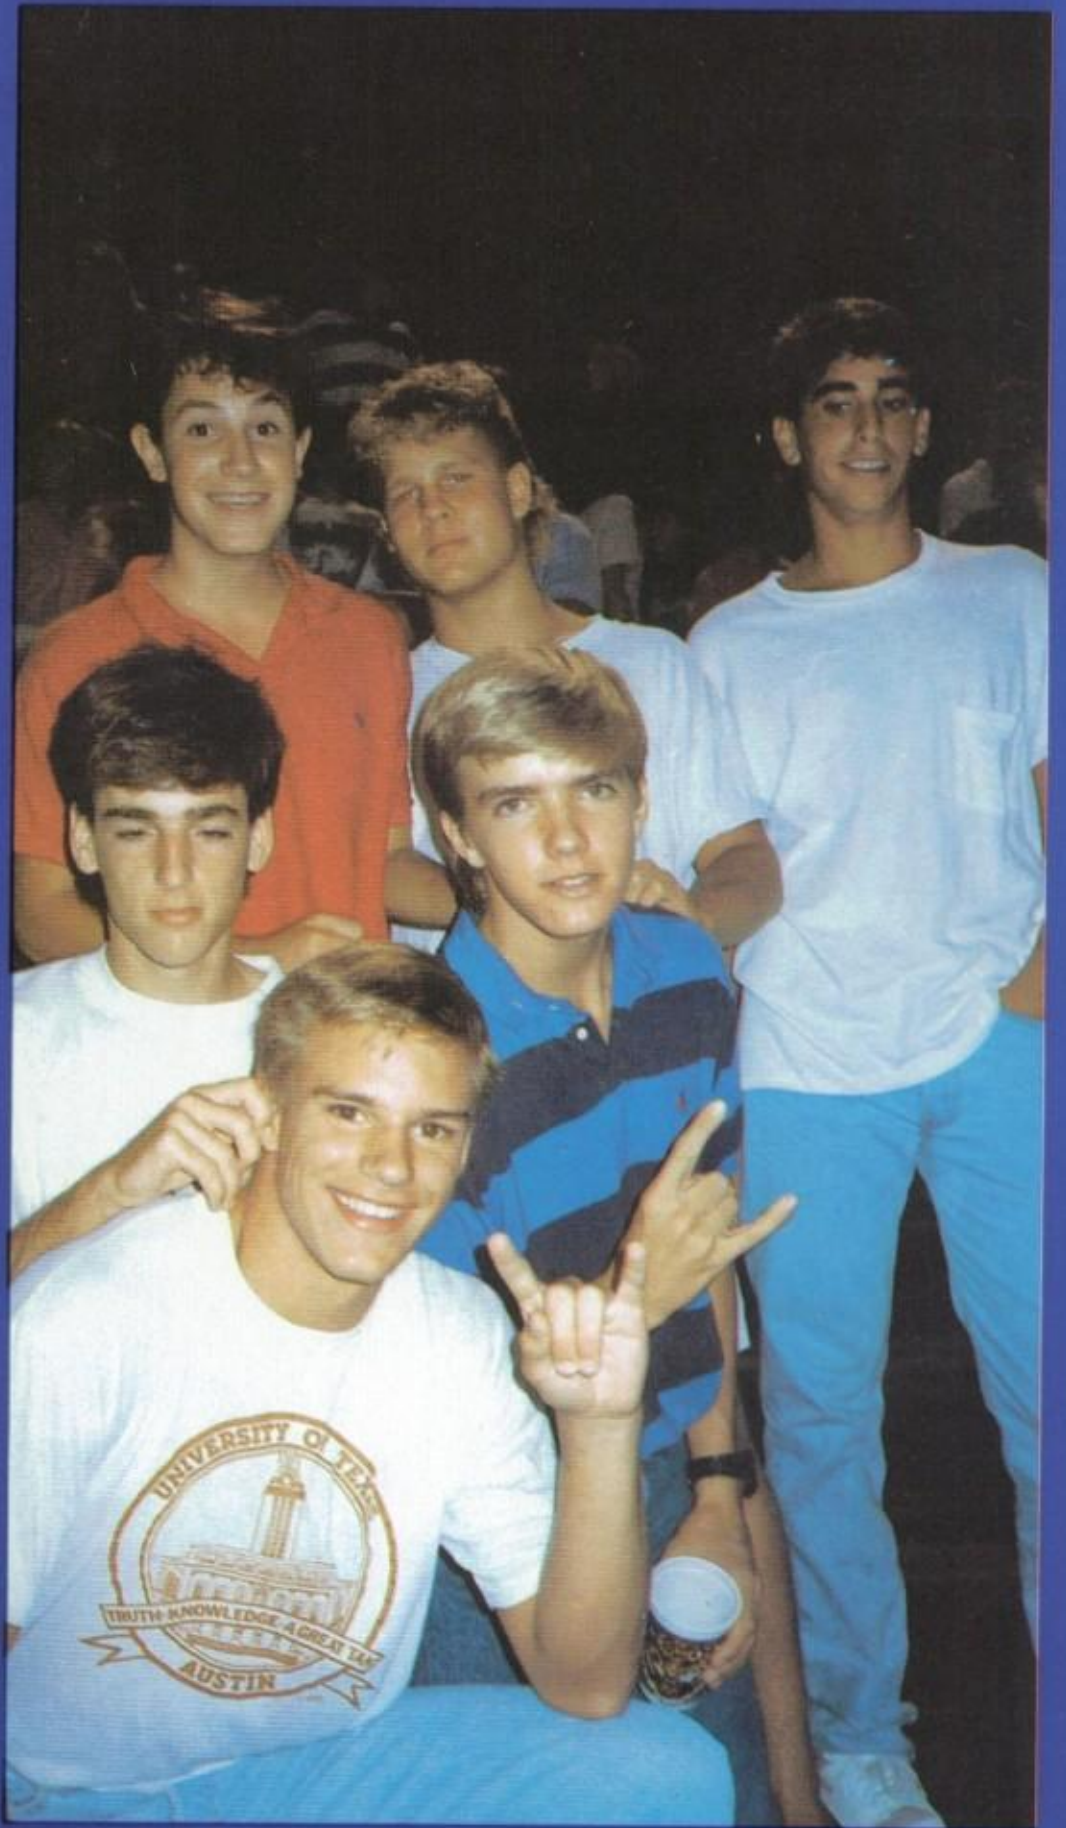

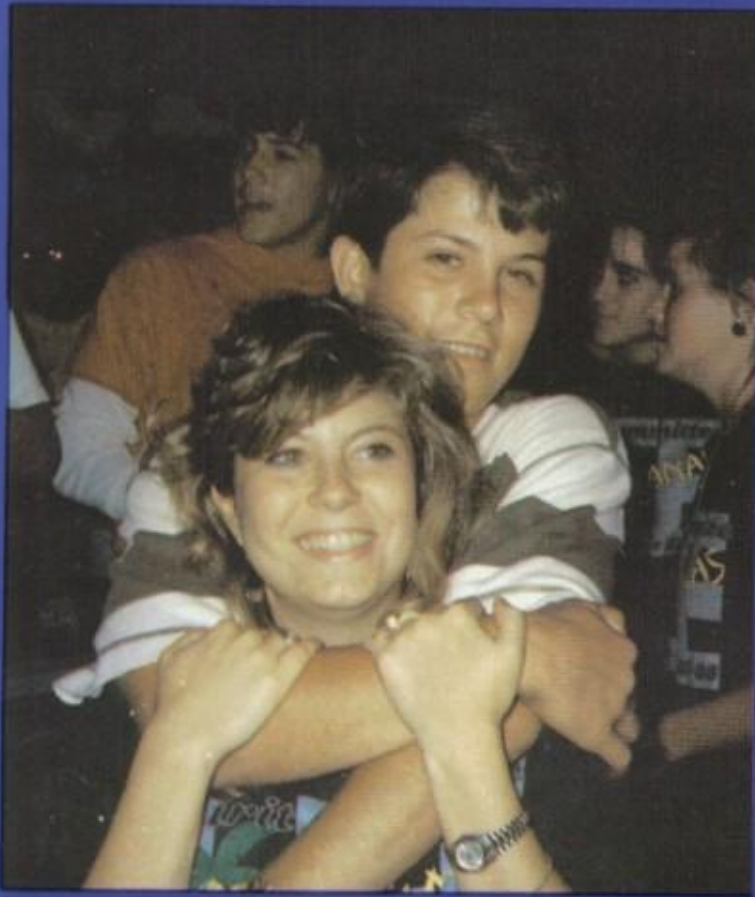

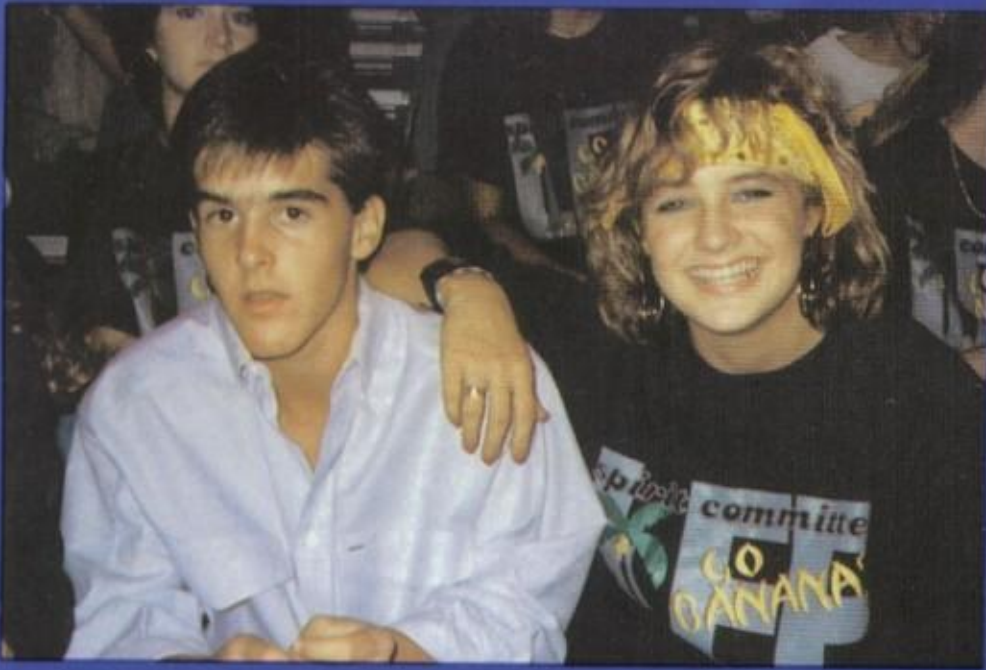

As classes and responsibilities got more complicated, students found it necessary to let off a little steam on the weekends. These two days, generally viewed as a time to catch up on some sleep, turned out to be just the opposite, further robbing students of their rest. However, no one complained.

Activities were varied but amusing. From theme parties, to formals, to casual get togethers, students were sure to find something to do. Hanging out at Mr. Gatti's, James Coney Island, or Beck's Prime also proved interesting. Seniors kept themselves busy with graduation parties and occasional visits to Oilers and Astros' games.

But through it all, the main topic of conversation between Lee students was what will happen to Lee High School?

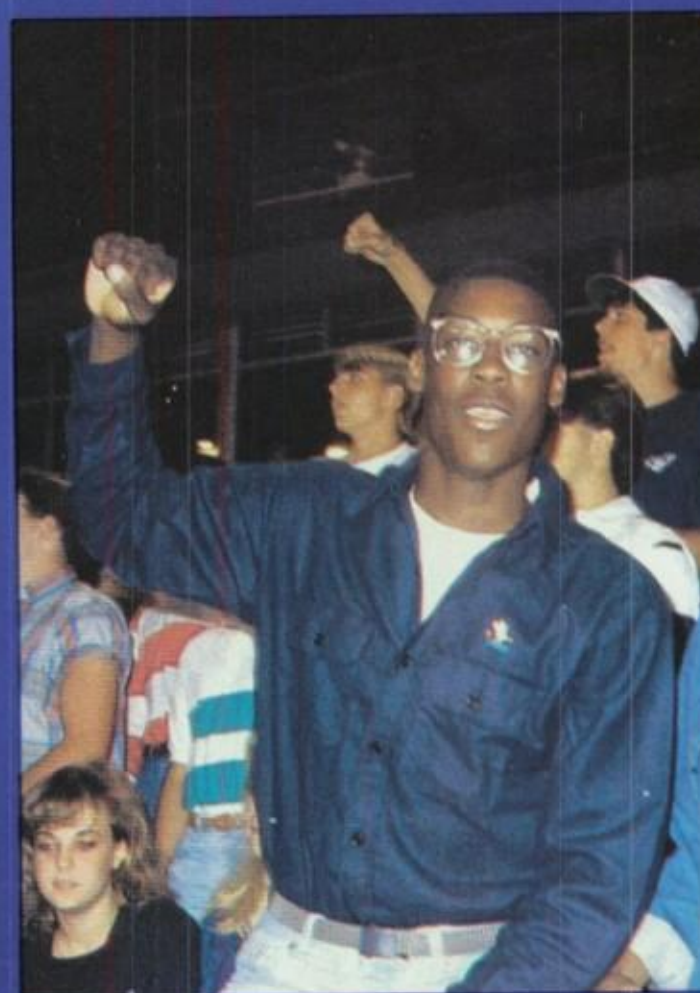

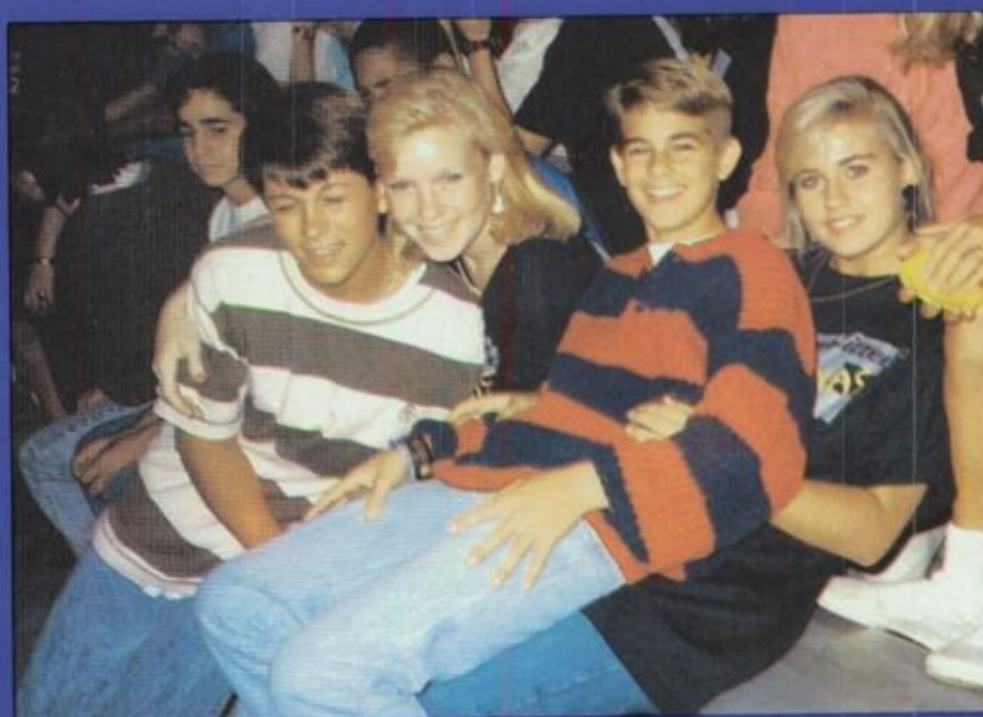

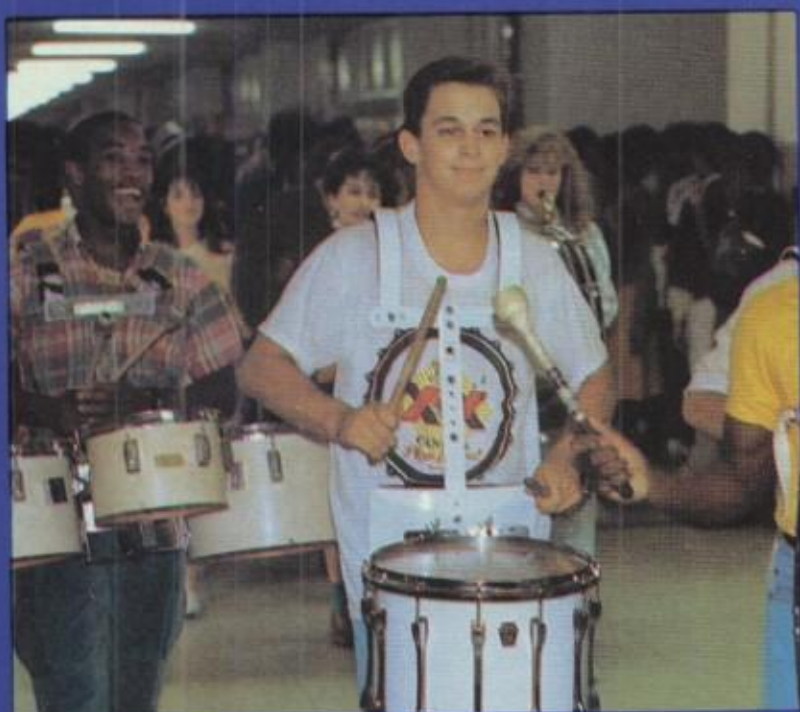

"Joy to the world
All the boys and girls
Joy to the fishes
In the deep blue sea
Joy to you and me."

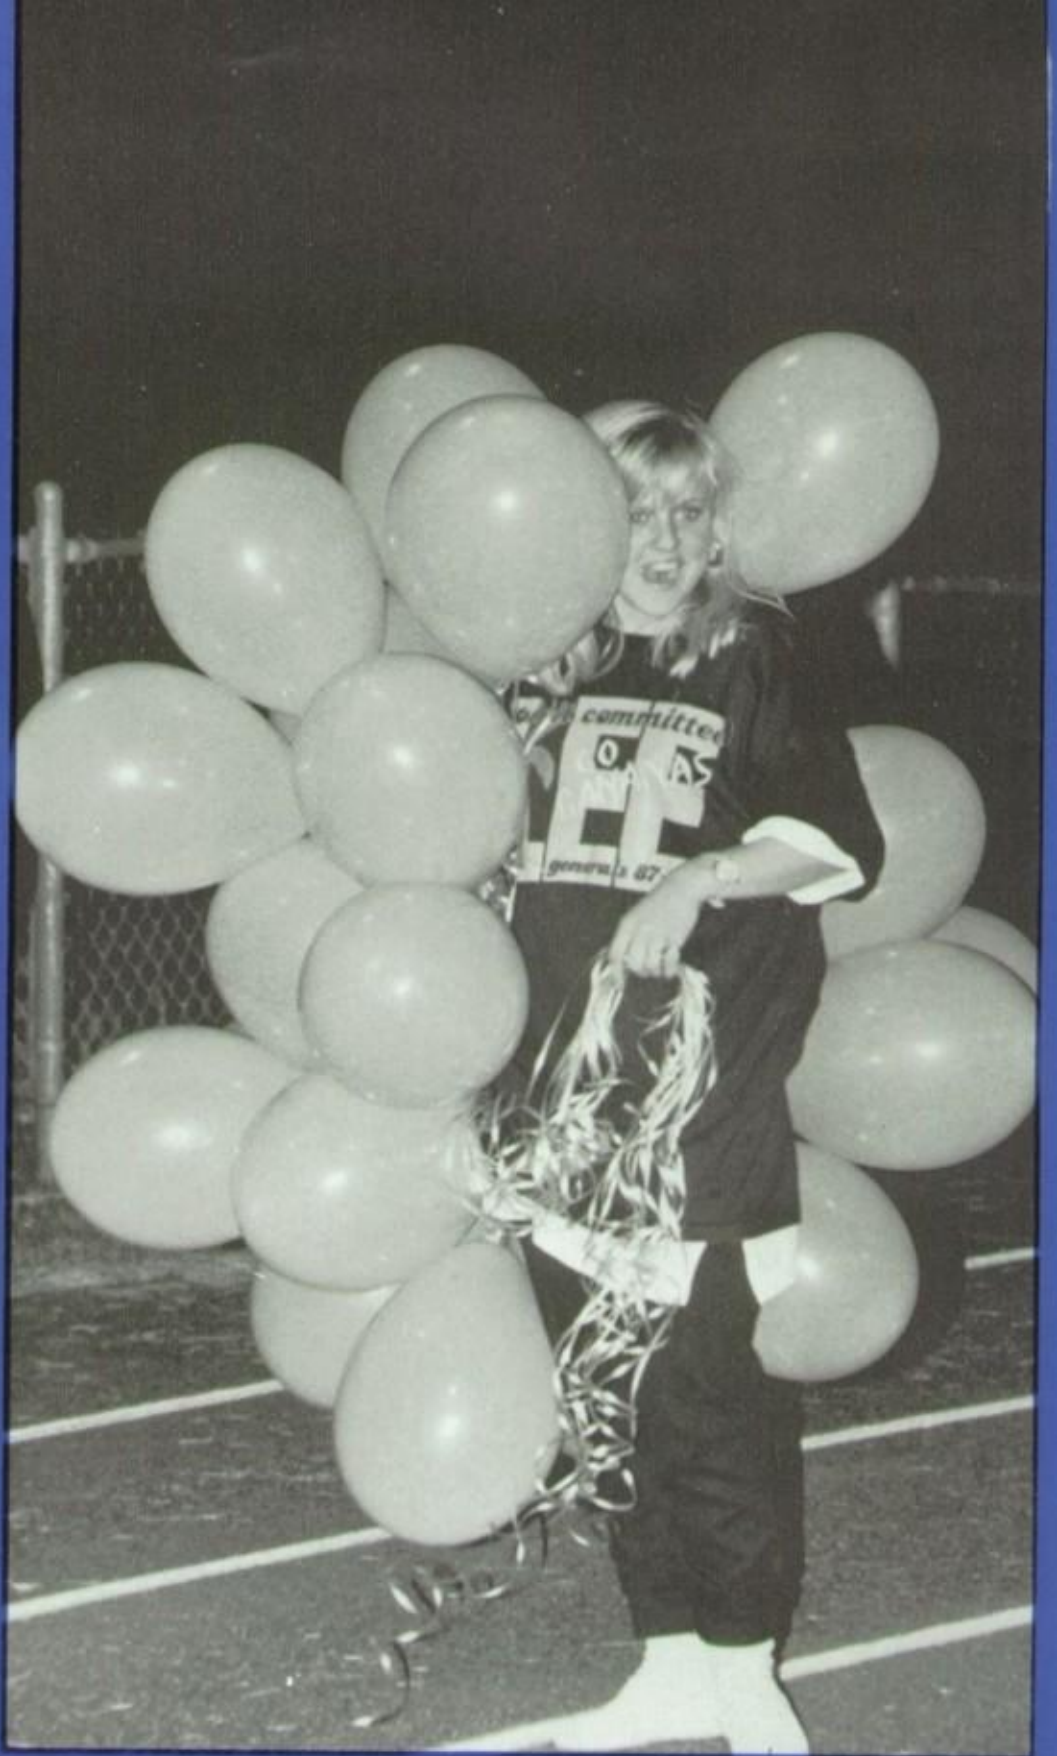

"Joy to the World" Three Dog Night

Challenge and change was not confined to Lee. For most of the summer, the Senate and House held joint hearings investigating the Iran-Contra affair, a scandal in which government officials were caught selling military arms to Iranian intermediaries and then diverting the proceeds to rebel Contras in Nicaragua. Americans were heartened by Lt. Col. Oliver North, whose questionable actions were ultimately characterized as patriotic.

On the financial side, stock markets around the world, which had been enjoying years of rising prices, took the sharpest dive in history. The New York Stock Exchange lost more than 500 points. Market analysts could not explain the collapse or why investors had lost confidence.

At almost the same time, Americans watched their television with joy and elation as 18-month old Jessica McClure was rescued from an abandoned well shaft in Midland, Texas. Drillers, paramedics, and other volunteers showed their persistence as they worked tirelessly for 58 hours to free the child. The American spirit had overcome the adversity and challenges and saved the little girl who brought Texas and the watching world together.

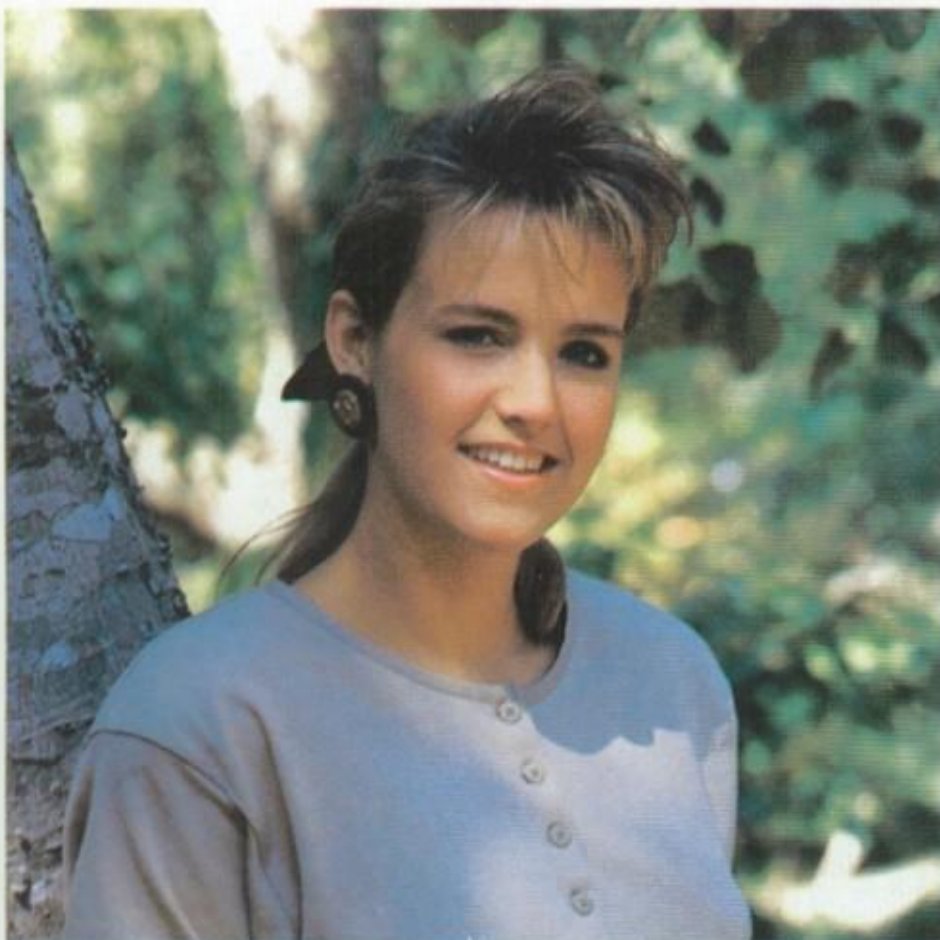

"Making friends
For all the world to see
Let the people know
You got what you need
With a friend at hand
You will see the light
If your friends are there
Then everything is alright."
"Friends" Elton John

The students and faculty at Lee recognized a few students as favorites. This could have been based on appearance, popularity, or leadership. Be that as it may, these students gained much respect from the faculty and fellow students. The Lee "pace" was set by these outstanding students who proved that they were a step above the rest.

"It's My Turn" Diana Ross

A select few of Lee's students were recognized as leaders. Each of them displayed leadership qualities such as diplomacy, responsibility, and friendliness. However, the qualities that each of these students shared was a unique personality and a goal to be the best.

Young Leaders

Scholars Burst Forth

At the start of the '87-'88 school year, talented Lee scholars reached yet another level of superiority. After taking the PSAT their junior year, four extraordinary students were selected as National Merit Semi-Finalists and five as Commended Scholars. The exceptional ability of these students in math and English courses was what helped them achieve this great honor.

Middle Right Jeff Cameron, National Merit Semi-Finalist.

Right: Shannon Sparks, National Merit Semi-Finalist.

Middle Commended Scholar, Dorry Segev, sends out a message of panic.

Top Right Leigh Glazer, Young Conservatives President and Todd Cole, Interact President, reach for the sky.

Presidents Provide Insight

Despite the administrative changes the new school year brought, club presidents displayed their true spirit and rose above the confusion. Their enthusiasm set the pace for success in both school and community activities. The completion and accomplishment of their clubs' goals marked them as the true role models of Lee High School.

Middle John Bugbee, National Honor Society President, Tracy Jones, Anchor Club President, and Jeff Cameron, Key Club President, sit back and relax.

Left Kenneth Mondshine, band director, Katherine Remmert, FFA President, and Kevin Schillaci, band director, know they can handle anything that comes their way.

"Let the Good Times Roll" The Cars

Students, looking to relieve some of the pressures of school, looked to the various activities and were not disappointed. At school, there were pep rallies, club functions, and lunch, the greatest social event of the day. Away from school, students amused themselves with theme parties, formals, and good times with friends. The memories of these times would last a lifetime.

Activities

Opening the Doors

As the doors of Robert E. Lee opened this fall, students said good-bye to summer and hello to a new and exciting year. To start off this new year Booster Club sponsored the second Gray Gold Day, August 27, the day of orientation. Clubs and organizations at Lee set up booths for the students to buy food and drinks and play a few games. Gray Gold Day helped start off the new year with lots of fun and was a great welcoming for the new students.

Middle Right Kim Turet laughs knowing whose names Christa Copeland, Stephanie Stamp and Tiffany Kramyr are looking up.

Bottom Razz M' Tazz pantomimes their way around Open House.

Young Life, led by Mark Goodson, is a non-denominational Christian organization for students at Lee High School. Young Life was great support and a great inspiration for many students. Club meetings were held every Tuesday night at Southwest Methodist Church for sophomores, juniors and seniors. Young Life offered fun filled activities throughout the school year as well as summer. This summer Young Life offered Windy Gap, a camp in North Carolina and also a hiking trip, Wilderness, in Colorado. This past winter Young Life took a ski trip to Breckenridge, Colorado. Students enjoyed the fun offered by Young Life.

Lee's football team was faced with an incredible challenge to perform, and did, under close scrutiny from the media as well as district officials. The team set an example for the rest of Lee's athletics. The students who participated in the various sports proved that they were champions of a different sort; the sort who face adversity and overcome it.

In 1984 the Lee freshman football team won district and in doing so, a sense of destiny became instilled in the minds of each of the players. The 1985 season brought promise in that almost half of the starters were sophomores who showed that they could pull their own weight. In 1986 a team of nearly all juniors ended the season with a 5-5 record and the knowledge that they could win.

1987 marked the first time that most of the players from that 1984 freshman team could come together as a team. The players spent many hours on the track and in the weight room preparing for the season. In various meetings the players decided to work out over the summer as a team. After a summer of sweat and pain the players were ready to fulfill their goal: the District 18-5A championship and a shot in the playoffs.

After whipping Sam Houston, Lee lost to Waltrip and then thrashed Washington in a tuneup game before district competition began.

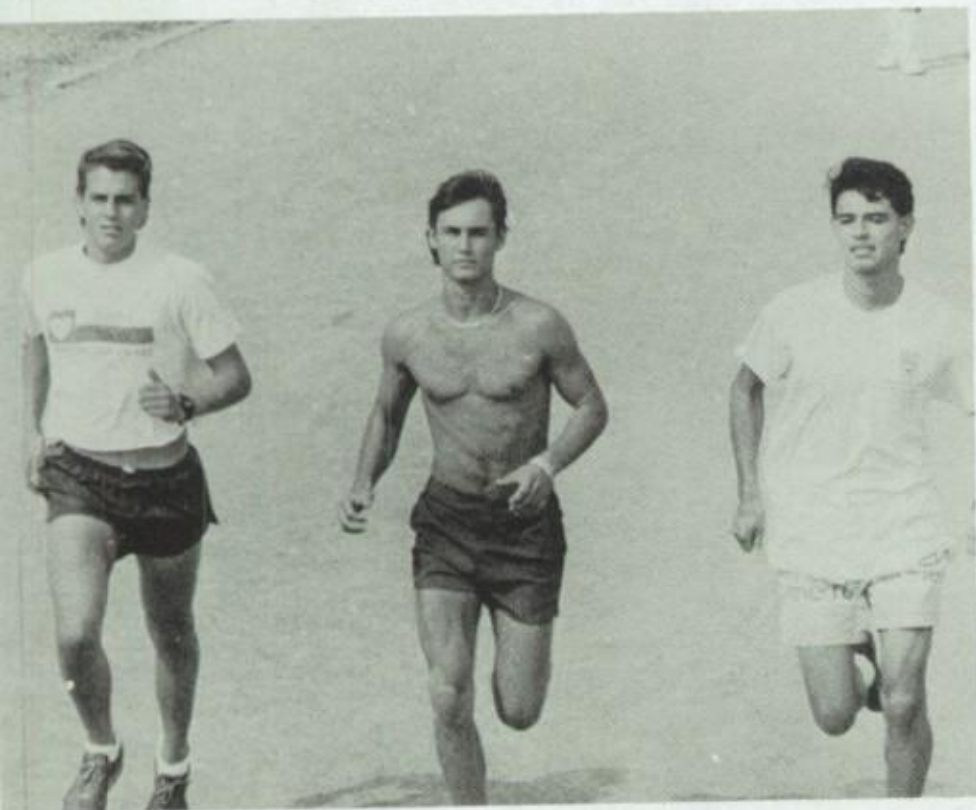

Lee quickly beat Sharpstown, Bellaire and Washington before suffering a tough loss to unbeaten Madison. The Generals disposed of Westbury and Clear Lake, setting up a district showdown against Lamar. Lee lost, thus preventing a chance to enter the playoffs and giving the Generals a 7-3 record.

Peter Gardere led the list of Lee's performers capturing the offensive player of the year in Houston, second team All-State, and combined with first team All-HISD receivers Jamie Mouton and Damon Brody to set 14 state records and finished his career as the number two passer in the history of Texas 5-A football. Geoff King, Todd Cole, and Clarke Flowers also were named first team All-HISD.

The 1987-1988 season began as a rocky road for the returning District 18-5A champs. Lee lost several of its first games to teams ranked in the area such as Sam Rayburn, Memorial, and Milby. Coming into district competition, Lee was 11-10.

Then, Lee lit fire and went on a 10-2 district streak including two victories over Madison. Lee was led by the strong rebounding of Jarrod Harrell and Mike Billingsley's district leading three-pointers. Lance Russell guided the team as the court general who controlled the ball. Coach Mike Fergus served as a strong point leading Lee to the playoffs three times in the last four years and the 1988 District 18-5A championship.

Generals Play Tough

Dion Benjamin skies for a rebound.

For the second year in a row, the Lee Cagers lost a tough playoff game to the District 17-5A runner up. This time around it was a young Elsik Ram squad. In the first quarter Lee fell behind due to the Ram's rebounding and height advantage. But suddenly, Lee vaulted into the lead with Lance Russell's pinpoint shooting and Dion Benjamin's power rebounding. Mike Billingsley sealed the first half with a three pointer giving Lee the lead, 37-35.

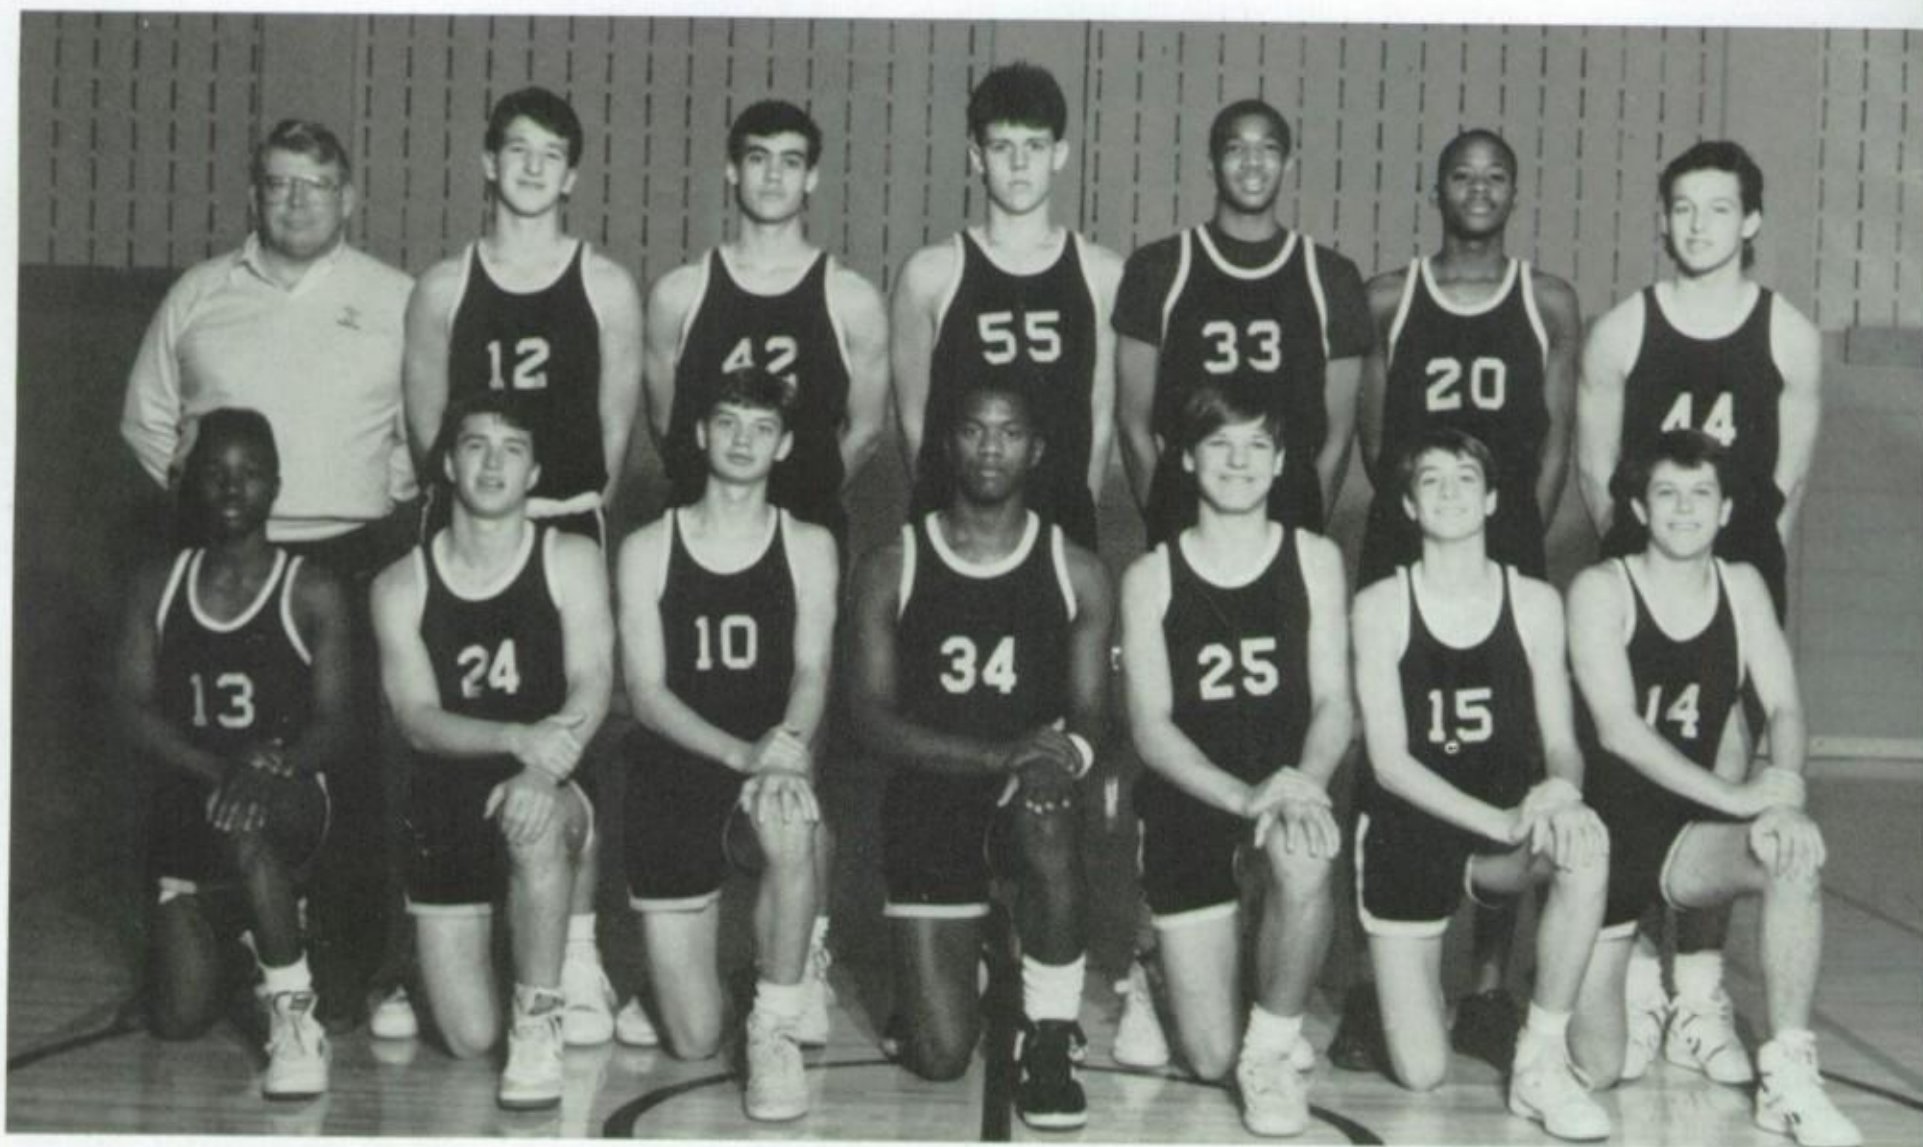

The second half was a seesaw battle all the way 'till the final buzzer sounded. The smaller Lee team could not compensate due to their lack of depth in the running stretches of tempo. Jarrod Harrell fouled out with 2:57 left in the game leaving a gap at center which Mark Lester filled with his height. Lee fought hard, but it was not enough, losing 67-66. Mike Billingsley led Lee with 19 points while Jarrod Harrell contributed 13 points, and Lance Russell added 9 points and 7 assists.

The 1987-88 boys swim team again proved successful as they won district for the third year in a row. Twenty eight boys participated in regionals where they collectively finished fifth. Outstanding swims were recorded by John Sirois, James Connely, Chris Lipscomb, and Kelly Daniel. John Sirois attended the state meet where he finished eighth in the 50m free style event. This victory carried him to the honor of second team all state. This young team came together for a very productive year and has high hopes of repeating their accomplishments next year.

Senior boys Sirois gives the Generals that winning edge.

Runners Race For The Finish

The 1988 track team, small but strong, became a force to be reckoned with in the 18-5A district. Through expert coaching and training the team improved remarkably from the beginning of the season. Matt Partridge and Jose Oregon did an outstanding job in the 3200 and 1,600 meter runs. Also, long jumpers Brodrick Jones and Kieth Patterson greatly improved throughout the season. Coach Woods hopes to be very competitive in the district meet.

At the halfway mark of district play the Lee baseball team was living up to their high expectations. After winning consolation in the Spring Branch Tournament in March, Lee made school history by winning first place in the Ewell Jackson Tournament. Clay King was named M.V.P. of the tournament.

Individually, Charles Abernathy was second in the city with a .544 batting average. Clay King led the city in homeruns and RBIs with a .444 average. On the pitching side Marcus Maley was first in the city with 90 strikeouts and an impressive 7-0 record.

Entering district play, Lee was 12-2, and people were beginning to believe in the team. After important wins against Sharpstown, Westbury, and Lamar, Lee was 5-1 in District. At one point in the season the team was ranked second in the city and sixth in state.

The clubs at Lee, whether service organizations, theatrical companies, or social groups, all helped to do one thing; unite the school. These clubs gave students incentives to do well as well as activities for an otherwise routine day. The reason the clubs were so successful was largely because of the faculty sponsors and the guidance they provided. Through their leadership, the students were able to help the school as well as the community.

SABER Says Adios

The year started with Wiz exclaiming, "You know we have a deadline?" Sometimes, however, it seemed some of the staff didn't understand the importance of the term. This was the point at which KT was ready to pack it up and go Dominican.

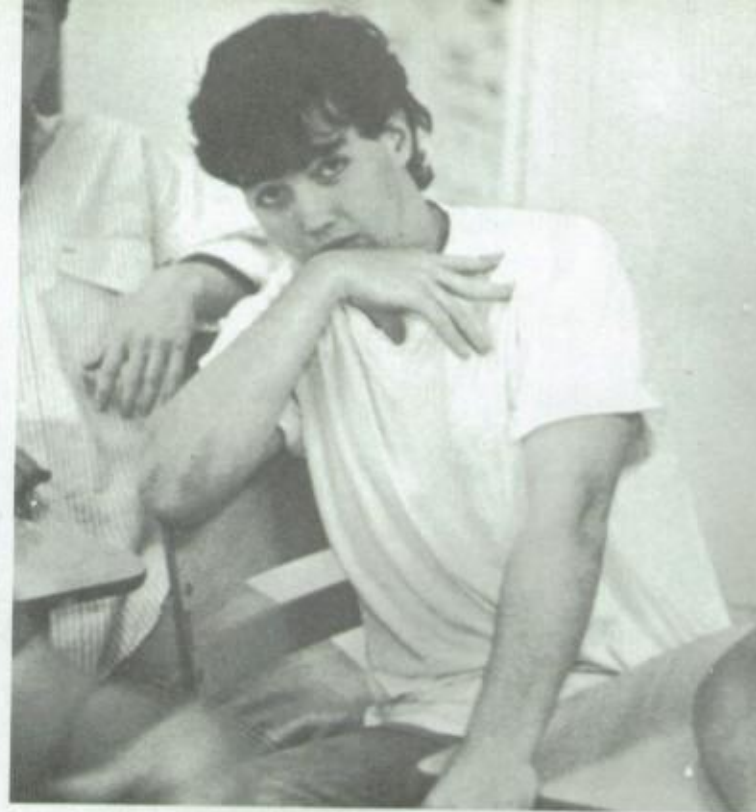

New Saber records were set during the second deadline by Helen and Julie, something of which they were both very proud. Once again there seemed to be confusion over the meaning of deadline especially in Mark and Shelly's case. Regardless of their help the pages were finished and everyone celebrated by taking finals. What a party!

The only excitement about the third deadline was that it was the last. Finally, the end was in sight. The book was completed on time even with the assistance of the junior sports helpers.

With all this done, the staff settled down to some true fun, the climax of which came at the spring banquet when Wiz announced next year's staff. The year closed out with Wiz "graduating" with the studly SABER '88 staff after 23 awesome years at Lee.

Here Comes ALPHA SIGMA OMEGA

ALPHA SIGMA OMEGA was Lee's Christian Students' Union this year. Their purpose, as always, was to study and acknowledge the meaning and the purpose of the Bible and its religion, and also present and introduce their learnings to the rest of the student body. In order to keep up activity in the group, the members held weekly meetings on Tuesday mornings, bringing speakers and special topics to elaborate on in order to expand their knowledge of religion. In the fall, the club met its highlight when "Somethin's Happening Houston" came to school and introduced a new meaning to having "religious fun." Also, as a part of their activities, the group was led in a concentrated study on Thessalonians I and II, two books from the Bible. Mrs. Estella Malouf was their sponsor this year.

Students Get Hospitable

The Hospitality Club is a service organization that aids school functions such as Open House. Members co-hosted College Night, where representatives from over eighty colleges in the U.S. had a chance to showcase and explain questions about their schools. In addition, the club helped out with the Eighth Grade Parents Meeting and volunteered at Blaylock Nursing Home every Monday.

Interact Cares More

Interact is a happy medium between a social club and a service club. If you join Interact, you may find yourself putting together a playground for an orphanage, visiting senior citizens, or collecting aluminum cans for charity. President Todd Cole, Vice President Peter Gardere, Treasurer Carl Carter, and Secretary Troy Pidgen were successful in making this year very productive for Interact. The club was sponsored by Mr. Bill Hedly.

It's a Legal Matter

Associated with the YMCA, Lee Student Government participated in a unique program which allowed students to engage in political and government activities. Members could gain first-hand experience in legal matters and could also demonstrate talents in cooperative and competitive debating, depending upon what field of government they joined. At local, state, and national conferences, members could act as legislators, reporters, and lawyers, establishing an actual working government system. Dr. Burton Parks was the sponsor.

Committee Serves Spirit

OFFICERS Kneeling: Lotte Finderup, Barbi Tornay, Gayle Wise. Bending: Holly Miracle, Meredith McConn, Leigh Glazer, Heather Haase.

Every year, the Spirit Committee supports the teams of Lee's athletic programs through their games and scrimmages with other teams. They supply favors and set up pep rallies to spark up some "Spirit" for team members as they go on to challenge the potential of other schools. Their contributions to the grafitti on walls of the hallways supplied a feeling of companionship for the students of the school, and with their continuing growth in number, this feeling is hoped to also expand for the years to come. The sponsors of the club are Ms. Doris Countee, Ms. Eleanor Grant, and Ms. Ann Hair.

Music Fills the Air

LEE'S CHORAL MUSIC DEPARTMENT was made of two groups, the mixed choir, SOUTHERNAIRES, and the girls' choir, DIXILIERS. Amassed to a large number this year, the young men and women which participated in the activities of the music department went to great lengths to display the tradition of "excellence" which Lee has earned in its efforts to serve the school and community. During the year, singers demonstrated their best in choral art in competition at UIL contests and invitational tournaments at other schools.

Echoes Ring

Since the first edition of ECHOES magazine in 1981, Lee's English students have annually contributed their creative writing and art entries to make Echoes a nationally recognized student publication. Entirely produced on the Lee campus, and aided by a staff representing each grade level, Echoes has become a vital part of the Lee student body. They aim towards a level of excellence, representing the best of Lee's language and art talent. Mr. Vincent D'Amico is sponsor of this project.

Viva! Spanish Club

Under the careful guidance of Sra. Inés Anido, The Spanish Club once again was the largest and most active within the foreign language department. This service club aided the needy Spanish speaking communities in Houston. The club successfully sold candy this year to raise money to buy Thanksgiving baskets for Ripley House. Also, during Christmas, it held a party for Hispanic children. This proved to be a successful year for the club.

ROTC Sets Goal

Under the dedicated leadership of Colonel Arthur Butcher and Sgt. Richard Cockroft, the Reserve Officers Training Corps members perfected their proficiency in military tactics, marksmanship, and marching. The objectives of their rigorous program were to develop good citizenship, patriotism, self-reliance, leadership, responsiveness to constituted authorities and their appreciation of their roles in the United States Army. At the same time, these cadets maintained academic excellence in their classes. ROTC also controlled the overexcited crowds at the Lee football games.

"Teach Your Children" Crosby, Stills,
Nash, and Young

The 1987-88 faculty once again met the challenges and demands of higher education. With their guidance, the students formed new opinions on the world around them as they prepared to become a part of it. On the whole, the teachers formed lasting impressions on the memories of the students.

Faculty

Principals and Dean Face the Challenges

As the first semester closed, a new principal joined Lee. Mr. Don Jones, originally from Dallas, moved from Dickinson, Texas where he was principal at Kenneth E. Little Elementary School. He has also been a principal at Sonora High School and Kemp High School and an assistant principal at Dickinson High School. A former teacher, Mr. Jones has taught at the fifth grade level as well as courses in Civics, Speech, and Physical Science.

Mr. Jones announced his student open-door policy on January 26th and quickly began an 18-week processing period in which he established a "mission statement" for Lee. He worked closely with teachers, student leaders, and parents to decide what was best for Lee and published their decisions in the mission statement. Mr. Jones strived to allow the statement to dictate Lee's policy, classes, and goals.

Although he faced many difficult challenges, Mr. Jones showed an auspicious beginning in his first semester with Lee and proved successful in his endeavors.

Top Mr. Don Jones, Principal

Below Mr. Don Jones with Interim principal, Ms. Edith Moore

The assistant principals, Ms. Shirley Brazos, Mr. Charles Henderson, and Mr. Fred Skains helped the principal and staff in several ways. They helped organize and control the students through enforcing discipline, organizing bus transportation, even assigning cafeteria duties.

Mrs. Betty VonMaszewski, the Dean of Instruction, helped govern the student body. She supervised all teachers and curriculum and her guidance was a great asset to the 87-88 school year.

These four hard workers truly strived to achieve an excellence at Lee this year. As a result of their insight and direction, they met this goal.

Artists Lead Colorful Lives

The Fine Art Department, led by Mr. Henri Gadbois, allowed the art student a creative outlet for a variety of tastes. The I.B. art course could cut a four-year study to two, yet a more in-depth study could be followed if desired.

Language Arts were diverse and varied as well. Courses were offered in speech, debate, and Journalism. Positions on the newspaper and yearbook staffs were available for those who wished to pursue journalism.

The Marching Generals Band, Razz-M-Tazz, the Dixiliers and Southernaires all provided an escape and entertainment for those with a creative flair.

English Writes the Story

The English Department, led by Mr. Joe Hayes, strived to ease the high school to college transition particularly with in-depth vocabulary studies and a college preparatory class. Academic English, mainly a writing class, was designed to fit between the I.B. and regular classes and to prepare seniors for the heavy load at college. Teachers emphasized the importance of careful preparation for the SAT as well as for the Proficiency Tests.

The department's pride, though, was the eighth edition of Lee's successful literary magazine, ECHOES. The best pieces of student literature were pulled for the magazine by the advisor, Mr. Vincent D'Amico.

Linguists Find the Meaning

The Foreign Language Department, led by Mrs. Ines Anido, helped students excel in foreign languages. This year the department offered French, Spanish, German, and Latin. Teachers encouraged students to further their education through clubs, competition, summer trips to Mexico with Amigos De Las Americas, and use of the Language Lab. This was the first year that the newly constructed Language Lab had full usage. Each student had his own cubicle with earphones and a tape recorder to practice his vocabulary and fluency. The student's progress was encouraged and corrected from the teacher's control desk.

Homemakers Heat Things Up

In the Homemaking Department, headed by Ms. Beth Bogan, students were offered courses in Child Development, Home and Family Living, Home Management, Foods and Nutrition, Clothing and Textiles, and Homemaking I.

This department helped students not only to gain a better understanding of Vocational Economics, but also it helped allow students to develop self-awareness and self-direction. The students participated in creative projects such as egg babies and purse-making as well as vocational projects in the Future Homemakers of America club.

Math Uses New Angles

The Math Department offered Lee students challenging, innovative courses designed to help prepare them for college and careers. Mr. Tom Williams headed the department which included Algebra, Geometry, Calculus, Trigonometry, and Elementary Analysis courses. The new computer room and the anticipation of thirty new computers allowed interested students to expand their math applications. Mu Alpha Theta, a nationally affiliated math club, took these students one step further allowing them to participate in challenging tournaments and contests.

Scientists Have the Right Elements

Under the direction of Miss Joyce Schwietzer, the Science Department focused on the physical forces that govern our lives. Students were taught to appreciate their world through courses in Physical Science, Biology, Marine Science, Technical Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, and Physics.

Students applied their knowledge in AP programs, competitions at Sharpstown, Bellaire, the Olympiad, the UIL, and the Science Fair, and through activities such as the Science Club, Critters and Creatures, and the Chemistry Honor Society.

Well we know where we're going,
but we can't say where we've been.
And we know what we're knowing,
but we can't say what we've seen.
And we're not little children,
and we know what we want,
and the future is certain
Give us time to work it out."

"Road to Nowhere" Talking Heads

Students of the 1987-88 school year cooperated in the reevaluation of the standards and curriculum of Lee High School. New emphasis was placed on attendance as well as on-campus behavior. Meanwhile, seniors counted down the days until graduation.

Seniors Mark the End of an Era

As seniors let's look back my friend,
It seems we are an era's end.
Change after change tested our strength,
But we survived at great length.
With character we did persist,
And won with a triumphant fist.
The saying says the best are last,
All other classes, we surpassed.
In every sport we did excel,
Of our victories they will tell.
Our minds are the root of brilliance,
With which the world we will enhance.
Truly the best have come and gone.
Yet the class of '88 lives on!

The Best Have Come and Gone

Class of '89

CLASS OFFICERS President, Bob Steinhagen; Treasurer, Kiki Busby; Vice President, Lindsay Gordon; Historian, Kerry Hawkins; Secretary, Elizabeth Guest.

Another Notch on the Totem Pole

The Junior BOYS are obviously trying, but not succeeding in attracting Senior WOMEN.

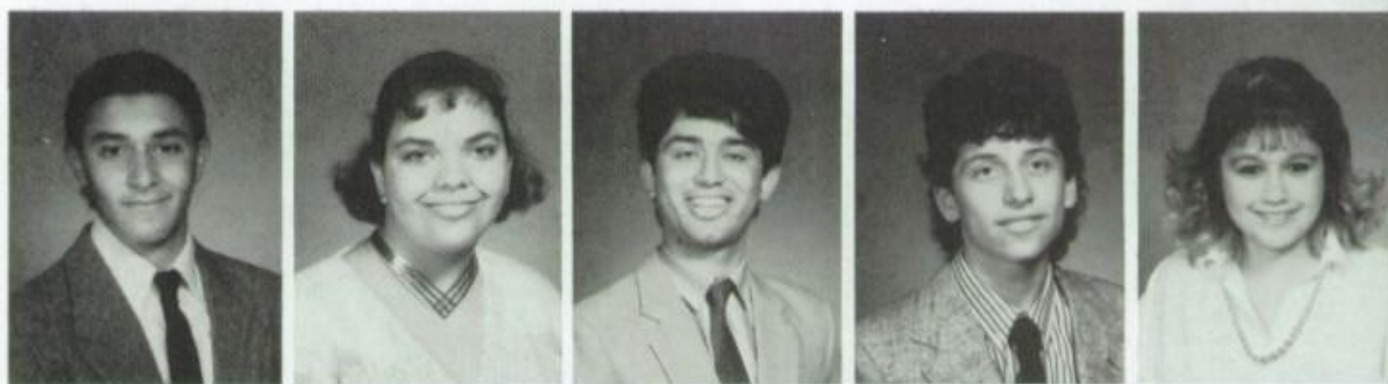

The class of 1989 began the 1987-1988 year with much optimism and an attitude of eagerness ready to handle whatever H.I.S.D. threw at them. Becoming a junior meant not only more freedom, but more responsibility. With this new responsibility the juniors became eligible to participate in more clubs and become a more valuable asset to Lee High School. Adulthood is just around the corner for these bright students and the much awaited SENIOR YEAR!

Fish smile guiltily when caught skipping by Suits.

The Class of '91 Adapts

The transition from being the oldest in school to being the youngest in school is a difficult adaptation, but the Freshmen handled it well. They made friends with the upperclassmen and got along well with the staff. The class of '91 may not be quite as humble as previous Freshman classes, but they still look up to the upperclassmen with awe and respect. The Freshmen are a great contribution to the school and Lee is proud to have them. Even though all the past Lee Freshman classes have been hard to live up to, this class has done a great job.

Left Brian Pinto tries to make a quick getaway when he realizes Meredith McConn is about to start talking about UT . . . again.

Right Courtney Speed, Blake Cummings, Kim Roach, Elizabeth Brooks, and Beth Bridges find riding as passengers is a relaxing change from their usual roles as "designated drivers."

Opposite Page Right Dillard Delafosse watches Dion Benjamin's every move, hoping some of Dion's food will come his way.

Right Julianne Crawford "breaks" through Cody Phillips and Annelyse Dalati in order to get a "peace" of the action.

Right Cody Phillips throws Sharon Schoenfeld for a loop when she decides to get a little closer.

Far Right John Scott and Matt Greer find it necessary to use force on Pat Jones to keep him from returning to an Ex-battleground.

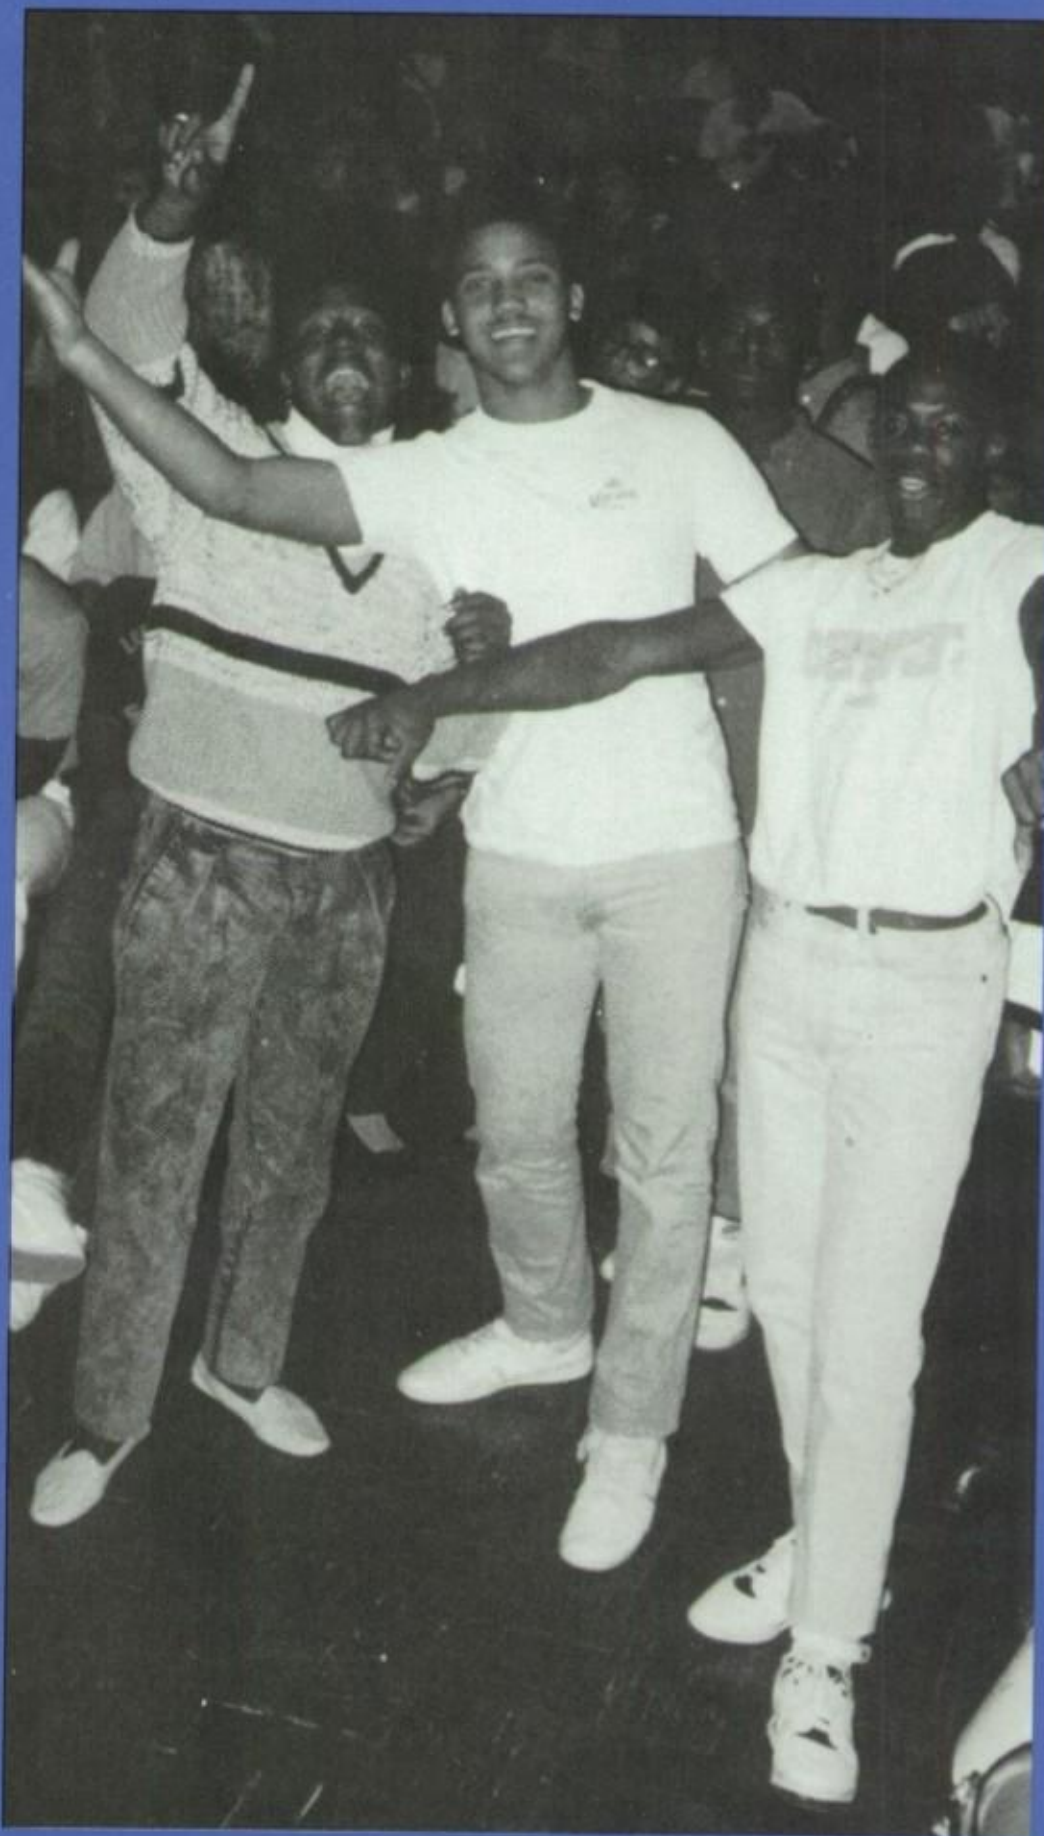

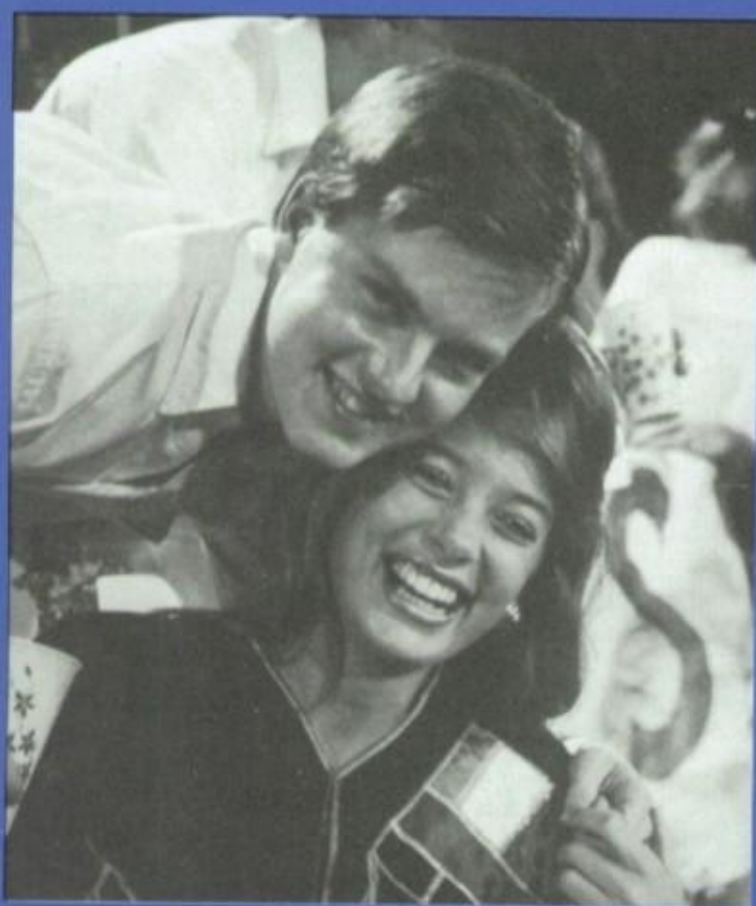

Opposite Page Holly Miracle, Leigh Glazer, Meredith McConn, and Heather Haase find that even though they have to, it's hard to separate.

"I see the bad moon rising
I see trouble on the way
I see earthquakes and lightning
I see bad times of day . . .
There's a bad moon on the rise"

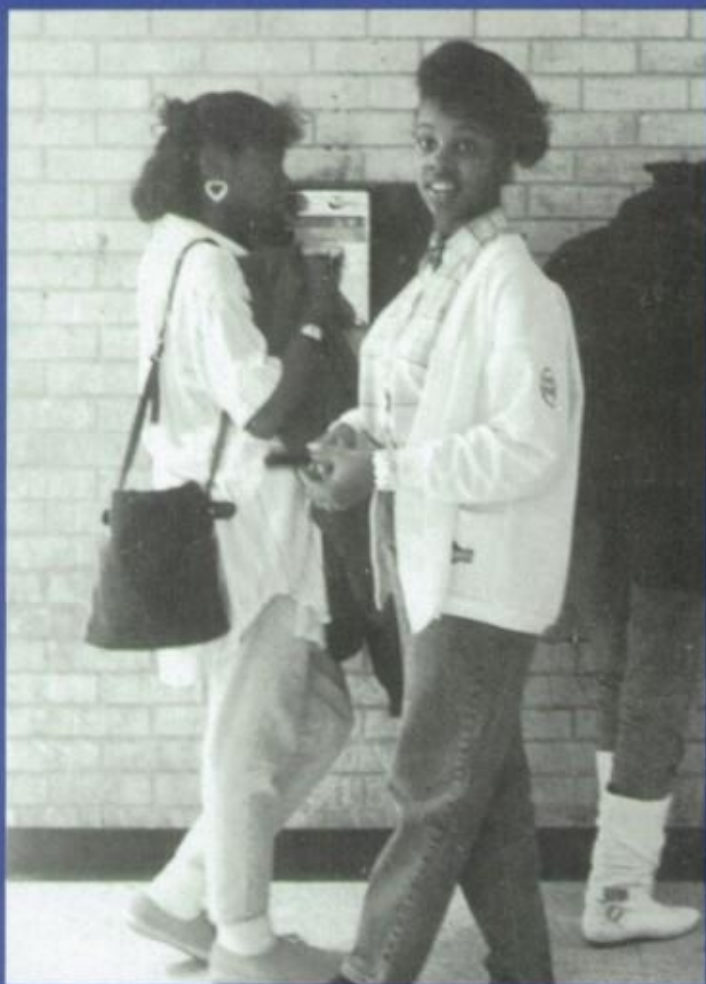

"Bad Moon Rising" Creedence Clearwater
Revival

From October to January the school operated under "the Suits" who patrolled Lee as it hadn't been for years. Hall sweeps and detentions were implimented to encourage presence in class. Then, at the beginning of the new semester, H.I.S.D. announced Lee's new principal, Mr. Don Jones, who was moving from Dickinson Elementary to take over the position. The students were happy to finally know who was really "in charge". Mr. Jones began making changes and improvements on almost his first day.

Looking back, the beginning of school seemed as if it were years past. However, in reality, it was just one year; a year of changes and tribulatin's, but a year in which the students proved what they could overcome and how they could excel. After all, isn't school a place for students to explore themselves and discover what they are made of? Robert E. Lee's students from 1987-1988 did just that and could only look to the future with great anticipation.

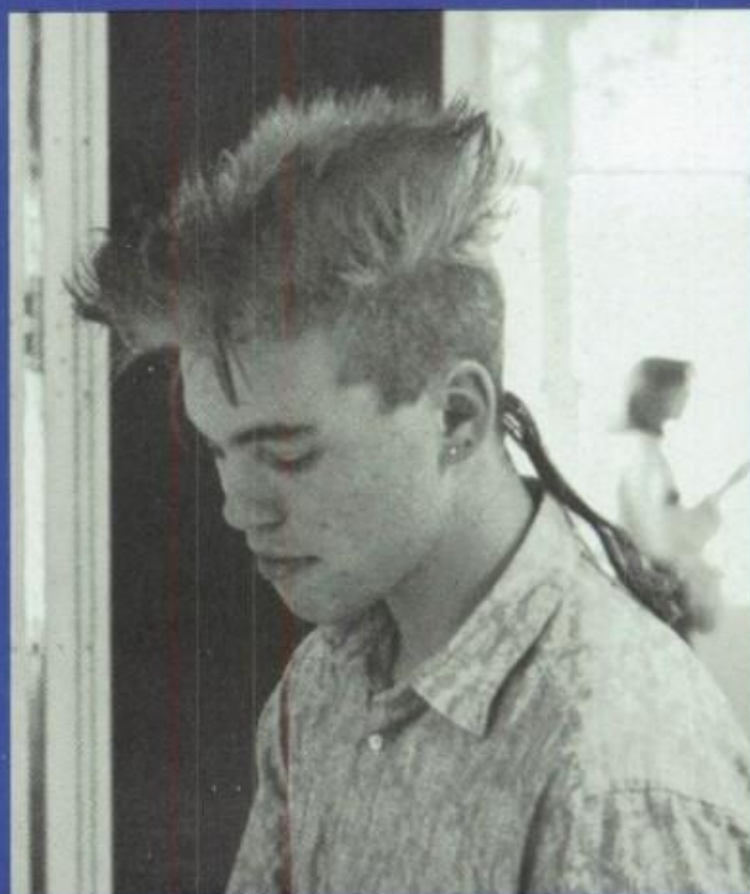

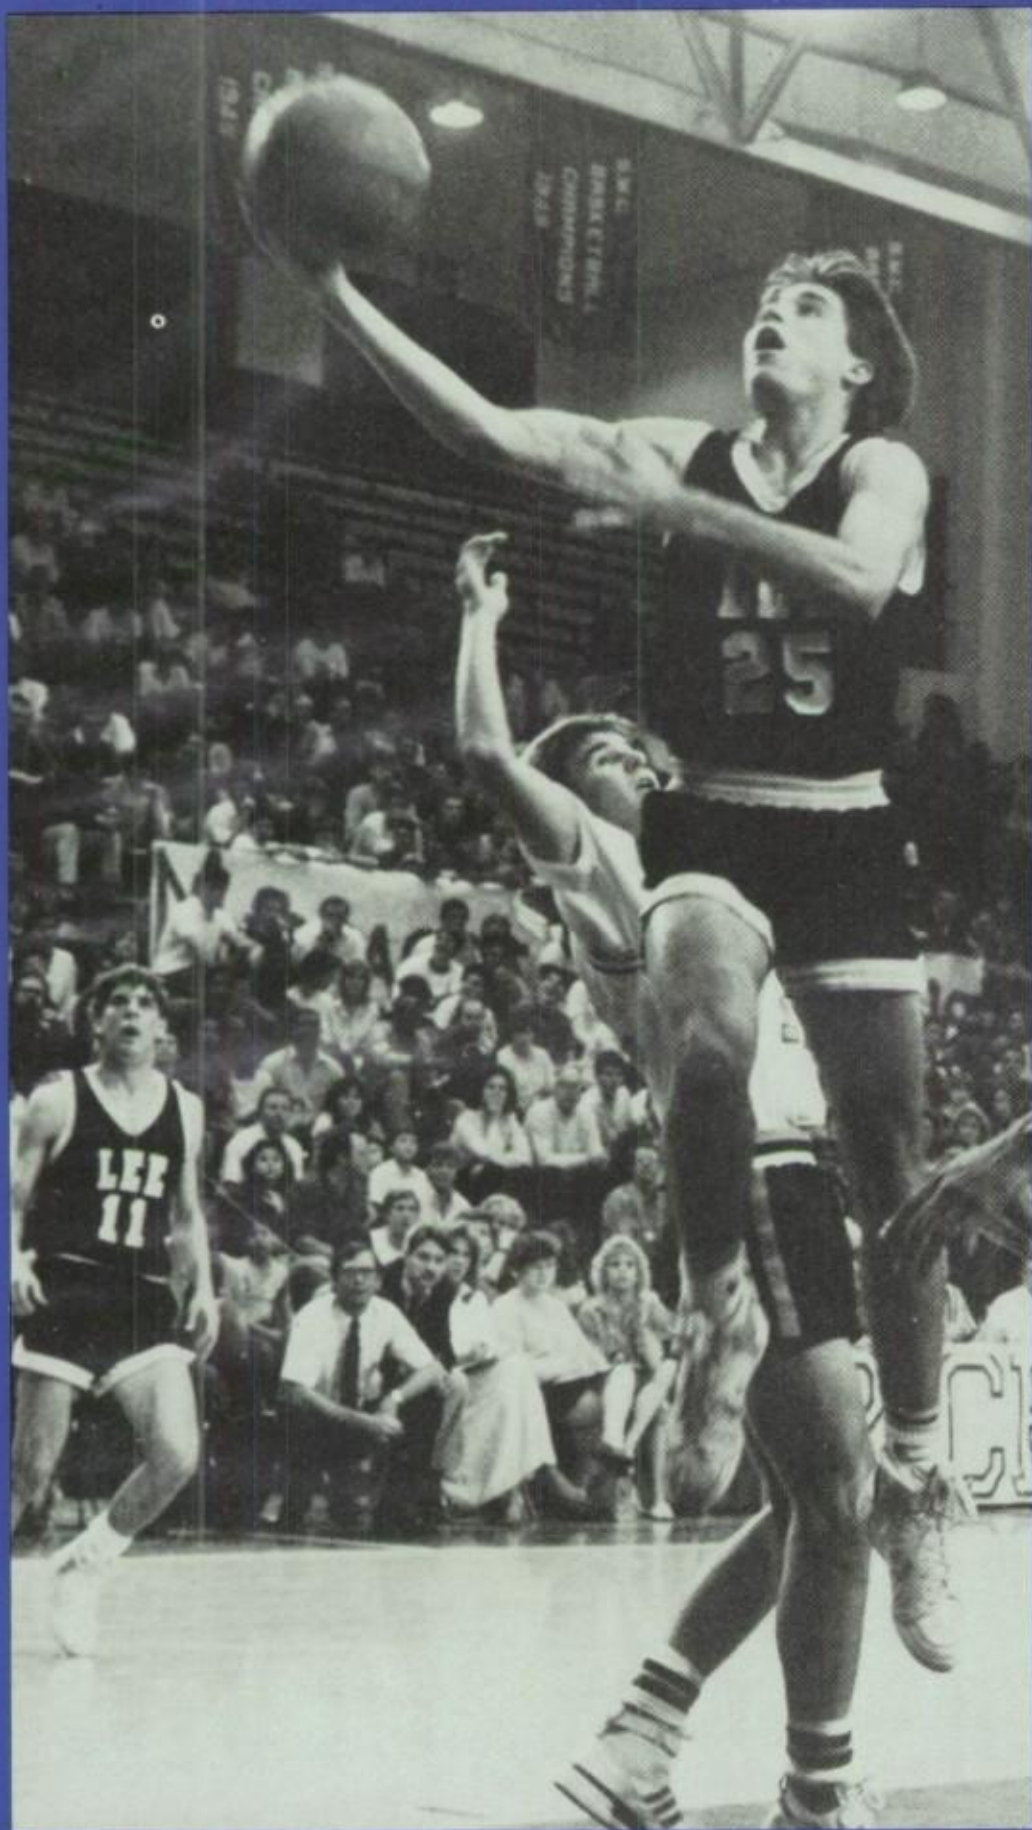

"Imagine all the people
Living life in peace
You may say I'm a dreamer
But I'm not the only one
I hope some day you will join us
And the world will live as one"

"Imagine" John Lennon

High school is said to be the best time of a person's life and the students of Lee were determined to make it that way, regardless of the obstacles they faced. Spirits soared when the basketball team won district only to suffer a heartbreaking loss in the first round of the playoffs. Students now turned their attention to the baseball team hoping they would be as successful. After four years of hard work and fun, it was time for the seniors to say good-bye to Robert E. Lee and venture outside its walls.

The nation began to organize for a presidential election in the fall of 1988. Texas also got involved by taking part in Super Tuesday to determine delegate strength. Media attention was greater than it had ever been before. It seemed that not one of the candidates was beyond reproach as accusations of wrong doings came almost daily. Yet, hope was raised when a partial nuclear disarmament was reached between the U.S. and Russia. Then, for the first time in 8 years, the Americans and Russians competed against each other in the Calgary Winter Olympics. All of this gave the new hope to a possible co-existence between the two nations. Athletes now prepared for the Summer Olympics in Seoul, Korea with new determination to bring home the gold and demonstrate the American spirit to the world.

"Oh I know I'll never lose affection
For people and things
That went before
I know I'll often stop
And think about them
In my life, I love you more"

"In My Life" The Beatles

Well what can I say? I never thought it would be over and truly it never will be because everyone of you has given me memories that I will always carry. As for you Wiz, the song is for you. Thank you for all that you have given me and all that you are. I wouldn't be the same without you.

Love Always,
